

September 2012 - During a three-week study of Ancient Egypt, local homeschoolers wear their Egyptian headdresses and pendants in their world history class at the Academy Days Homeschool Co-op.

Reigning as pharaohs and queens of the first and second grade class are Natalie Lantz of Millbrook, Abigail Coiro of Prattville, Ada Colburn of Montgomery, Bella Barnett of Deatsville, Lily Legleiter of Wetumpka, Cole Murphy of Millbrook, and Drew Dawe of Montgomery.

The Academy Days Homeschool Co-op, held weekly during the school year at Coosada Baptist Church in Coosada, is designed for preschool through high school students to learn subjects difficult to teach at home or best taught in group settings.
